 20. Alas
 a very nice and crazy girl
 I know since time. I still remember when we used to call you baby & beat in Spanish. Well, here we are in summer school trying to become senior, because we want to rule the school next year. May you graduate with the class of '86" because it's the best. Don't forget to give me an invitation to your graduation
 Good Luck and take care of yourself and family.

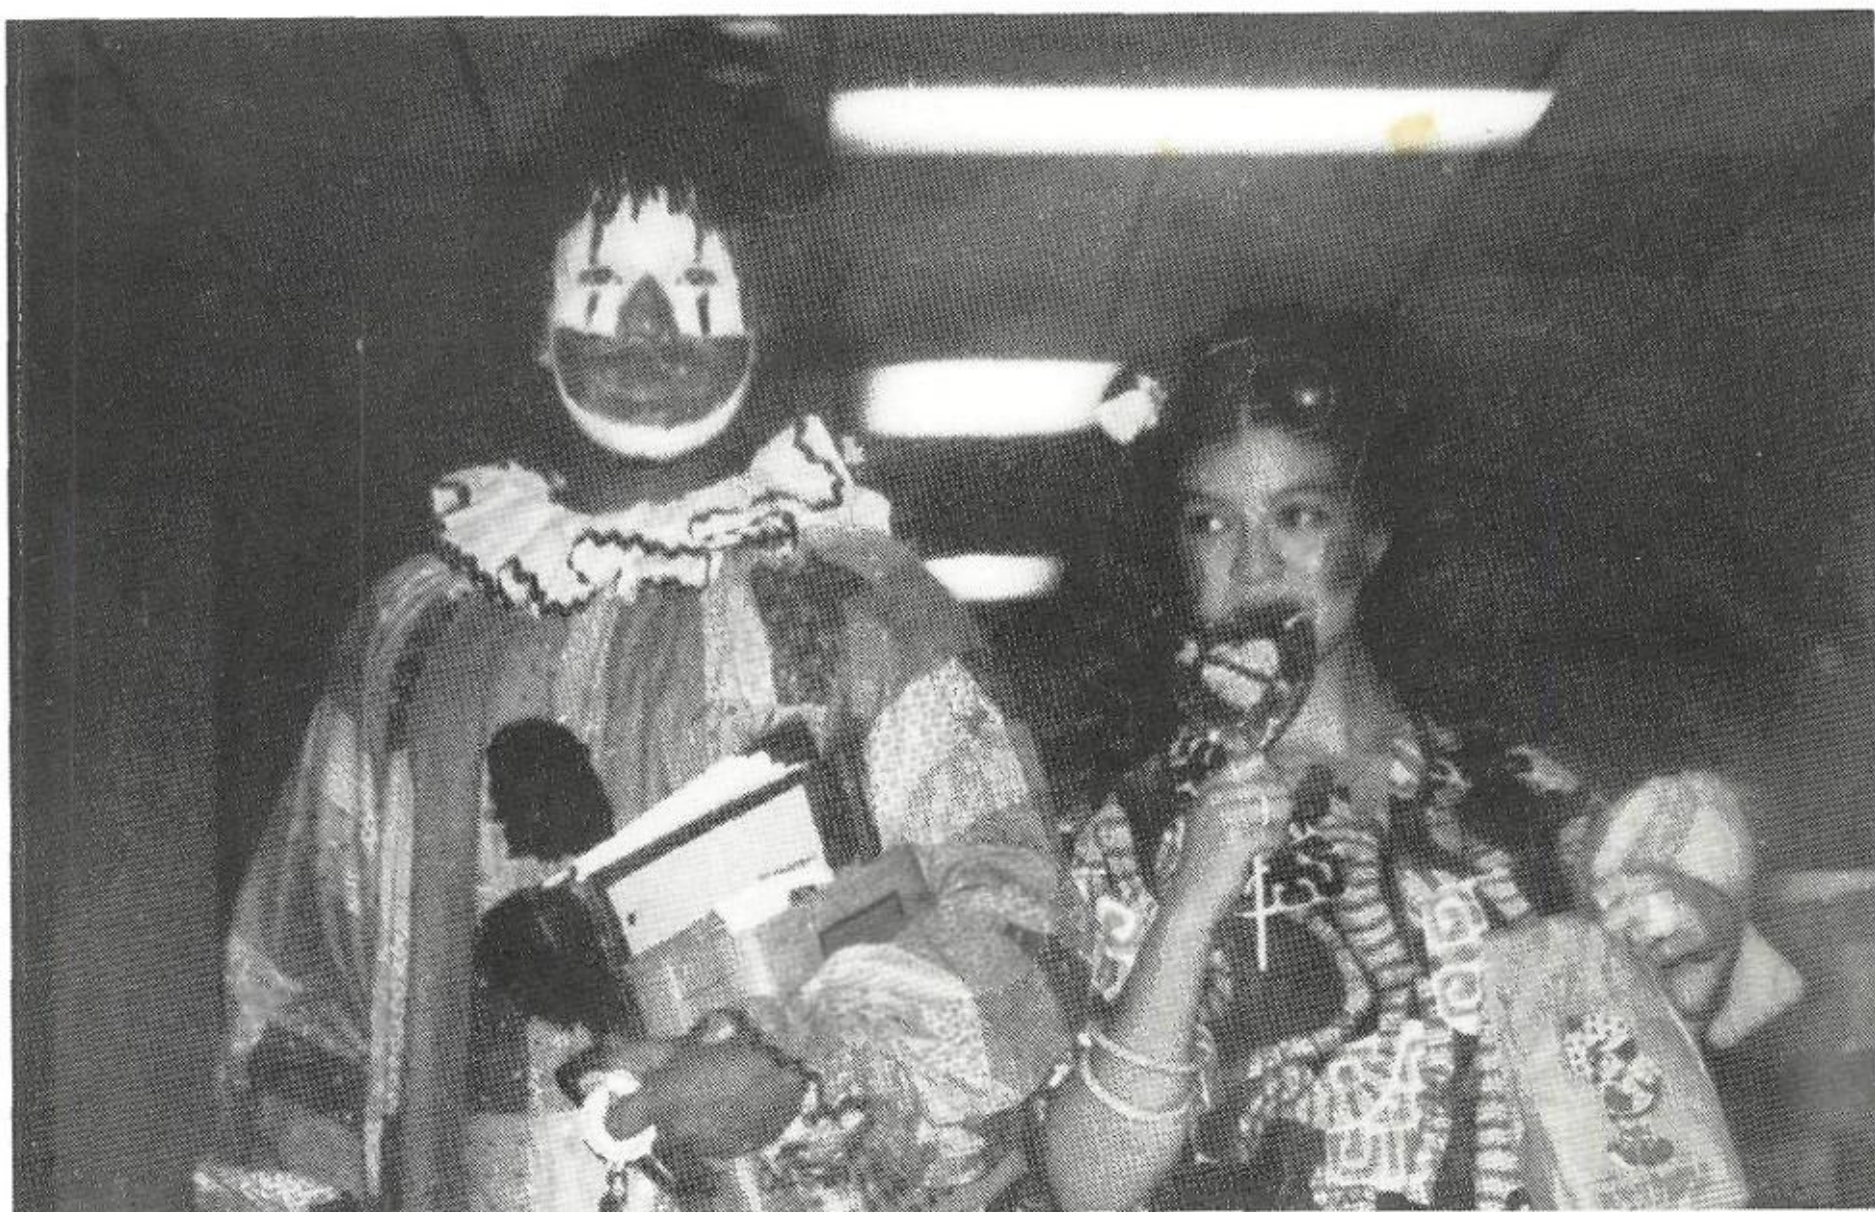

Your friend

FACULTY

KEEPERS OF TIME

Ms. Canamar is ecstatic at the fact that she received balloons.

Mr. Champion seems to think he can get a tan in the shade.

Mr. Nicholson likes cheerleading and hopes one day to be promoted as "head-cheerleader".

Mrs. Dunn is grouchy in the morning without her cup of coffee.

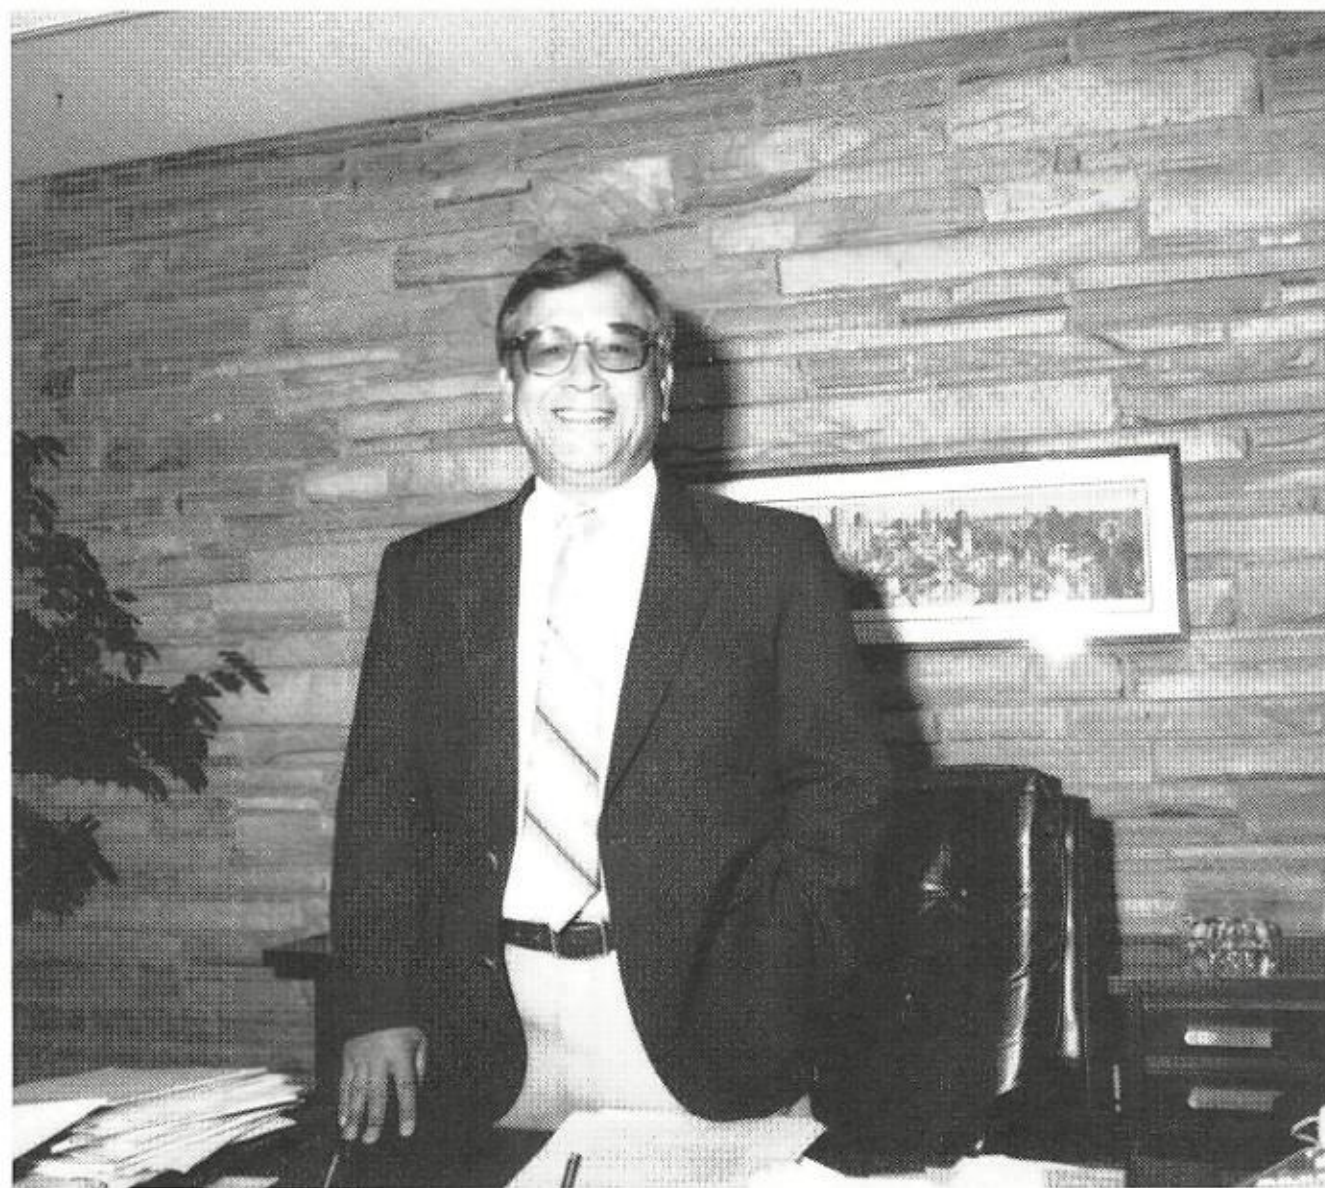

Mrs. Guzman demonstrates the art of grade recording.

"We shall pass through this world but once, let us do it well, for we will never pass this way again." — Class of '82

The people we will encounter on our journey will be many, but the most memorable and most impressionable will be our instructors. They are the main ingredient for a successful future.

They have grown with us and perhaps even helped us grow. They know our capabilities and our handicaps, and they've been there all along to educate and discipline us. To these people we owe very much, they'll always be remembered — long after we're gone.

COMPUTERS INVADE J. F. K.

Computers are the wave of the future and they have taken over, from making students' schedules to reporting their grades. Computers have taken their toll at John F. Kennedy High School.

Gracie Lopez, the Computer Input Operator, has been hard at work typing in information on the students. It is her job to constantly update the information and correct any errors.

Along with Ms. Lopez and Ms. Dorn, Mr. Gallardo also has access to the computer. He uses the computer to attain information from the students' personal files. The counselors have also used the computer's efficiency to schedule classes for the students and to record their grades. Since the computer has been at J. F. K., it has certainly made everyone's job a lot easier.

"I may be vice principal, but I don't have to eat here!" says Ms. Luna to Mr. Salinas.

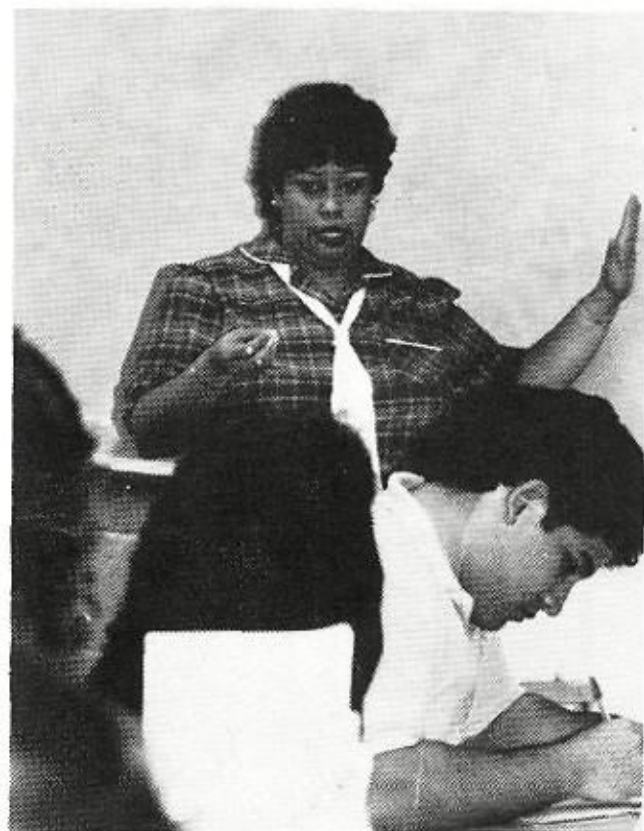

"You mean I'm not God?" asks Ms. At-nip.

"You'd better send these top secret documents to the Pentagon, Mr. Gallardo!" exclaims Col. Tempio.

ENGLISH PROSE

Carolyn Barry
Juanita Benavides
Jacinto Cardona
Miguel Chavarria
Elisa Cortez
Rene Cruz

Everyone knows Ms. Padilla means business when she erases the board with her hand.

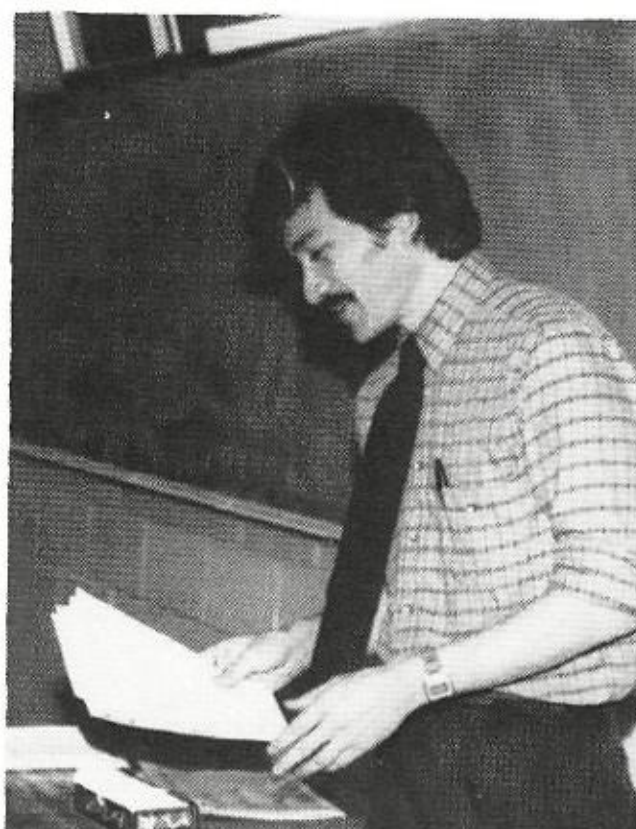

Mr. Cardona asks for hand-outs from sophomore officers.

Ms. Cortinas feels she has a "Colgate smile".

Ms. Sillen seems content with teaching.

Mr. Chavarria's got the looks you want to know better.

Ms. Cortez is caught typing a resumé for a less stressful job.

Got to go to Biology class.

Have homework for Geography due tomorrow. English I assigned an essay of 500 words. Go to detention today because was late to P.E. class. Drill team practice for performance Friday at football game. Am so depressed, I broke up with my boyfriend last night. Sponsors of skating-parting. Need money! Caught my girlfriend cheating on me with my best friend. Math class gave exams today- did not study! Did not have a sponsor until January. Had trouble finding one. Freshmen have lots of spirit. Mr. Muller and Ms. Pina gave homework for World Geography. Exams, reports, essays, read books, all part of being a Freshmen, the Class of '87.

FRESHMEN FISH FOR A BETTER YEAR

This year's Freshmen had a rocky start as their search for a sponsor led to many deadends. Nevertheless, the Freshmen class proved to have the quality of leadership needed to make this year a productive one. Their willingness will definitely make them leaders for tomorrow.

Mighty Seniors, Our Final Year, Research Papers, Book Reports, Ms. Pina is the hardest Civics teacher, too much homework, Calculus, English IV, Pep Rallies, Football Games, Pizza Hut, 1st Place for Hall Competition, Our last prom, Six Flags, Austin Trip, Sr. Farewell Dance, we're no. 1, striving to be the best, well educated, togetherness, shed a tear, lots of laughs, Spring Break, the Coast, Senior Skip Day, coming home late, falling asleep after the prom, spending the weekends together, lunchtime, Rock 'n Roll, Where's the beef?, the end is finally here, counselors, our future goals and aims, where to go to college, UT vs TX A&M, what do I major in?, Graduation, Oh No!, I'm not going to cry, we left our mark here at John F. Kennedy, we are the Class of '84.

A MEANINGFUL YEAR: 1984

As Freshmen we arrived here lost and scared. We didn't know what it was like to be a high school student. We were under control by all the upper-classmen, especially the seniors. We had to learn the ropes of high school and be able to grasp them all at the same time. Our Sophomore Year went by a bit smoother. There were a few obstacles we had to face, but the longer we were here the smoother the road seemed to get for us.

As Juniors, we were ecstatic about receiving our class rings. The prom was a grand issue among us. The treacherous road was coming to an end. We thought about becoming Seniors and our minds were filled with pure excitement. We held our heads high for we were in line to be the next Sr. Class of John F. Kennedy.

Finally our dreams came true. We were Seniors at last. We were the pick of the crop at school and nothing was going to stop us from reaching the top. We had so many things to take care of; paying this and that. There were so many events taking place in our Sr. year. The most exciting event that everyone was waiting for was Graduation night. Our end was near and we would no longer be high school kids, but mature adults going out into the big world making something out of our lives. We knew that the best was yet to come for our future endeavors.

JV GIRLS' BASKETBALL STRIVED AND STRUGGLED!

The J.V. Girls' Basketball Team consisted of eight players, two who are not pictured, Ginger Martinez and Dolores Perales. Not too many girls tried out for this sport. So the Freshmen team played against Sophomores and Juniors, which comprise most J.V. teams. Unfortunately, the team didn't have many victories this past season. This team may have not consisted of many players but they always remained united. They were always determined. "They went through rough times and stayed together until the season was over", says Julie Medrano.

These J.F.K. athletes were not known for their victories but for their unity and determination. They strived and struggled to be number one. They didn't quite make it, but they saw each other through and remained "one".

Victories for the rockets, farewell classmates and faculty, students coming and going, ring ceremony, Jr.-Sr. prom, graduation, banquets, trips. Freshmen are hot, sophomores have class, juniors have spirit, seniors are mighty, faculty is tough, administration gets involved. "Too wild", "baaaaa" "I'm so sher", "we believe", "totally awesome", "that's too much", "let's go to the Hut", "let's go to the mall", "you know who I saw at Jack's?", "Ya know what I mean" "where's the beef?", "the mean one", "let's wait till we graduate", "time for our gossip session", "remember the day we ... ?", "homework, give me a break!", "spare me please", "how dare you", "if you... I'll..."

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

Remembering the moments, and cherishing the memories are only part of the year. For some of us it's all over, yet for the rest of us, it's just a fresh beginning.

The Freshmen are just getting started, looking forward to better years and new goals. They're in the middle of confusion, they don't know where to go, or where to start looking, but there is always tomorrow.

Sophomores are making plans, "when I'm a Senior, I'm gonna ..." Yet, everyday gets more difficult, then all of a sudden, they're lost; they forget about the books and start thinking about the parties. They make preparations for the Senior Farewell Dance and begin to realize the pressure they're under, afterall, preparations take a lot of patience. Lots of luck, Sophomores!

Juniors are constantly working. Mr.

Muller and Miss Canamar make them strong leaders, but mostly united in spirit and in involvement. From day one to prom night, Juniors are working hard, they know where the pressure is coming from, and they know how to overcome it. Juniors are successful all year round

Seniors are getting ready to succeed in the world of reality. "Should I go to college?", "Should I work?", "What do I want to do with the rest of my life, and yet be successful at it?" These are just some of the questions that go through the minds of a lot of Seniors. All year long, Seniors tried to succeed in activities, however, they sometimes did not achieve their goals, but they always knew that something good usually comes out of something bad, and by the end of the year, their obstacles had been overcome. Congratulations!!!!

The faculty is preparing students for Bright futures. Several teachers tell their students "I can't teach you everything, but I can teach you how to think" This is just one quality that the John F. Kennedy faculty has, that makes them so different, and yet very special. The faculty has faith in their students, they believe that with a little bit of encouragement toward the student body, they can urge them to do more than they actually bargained for. Thank you faculty, for the best year ever!

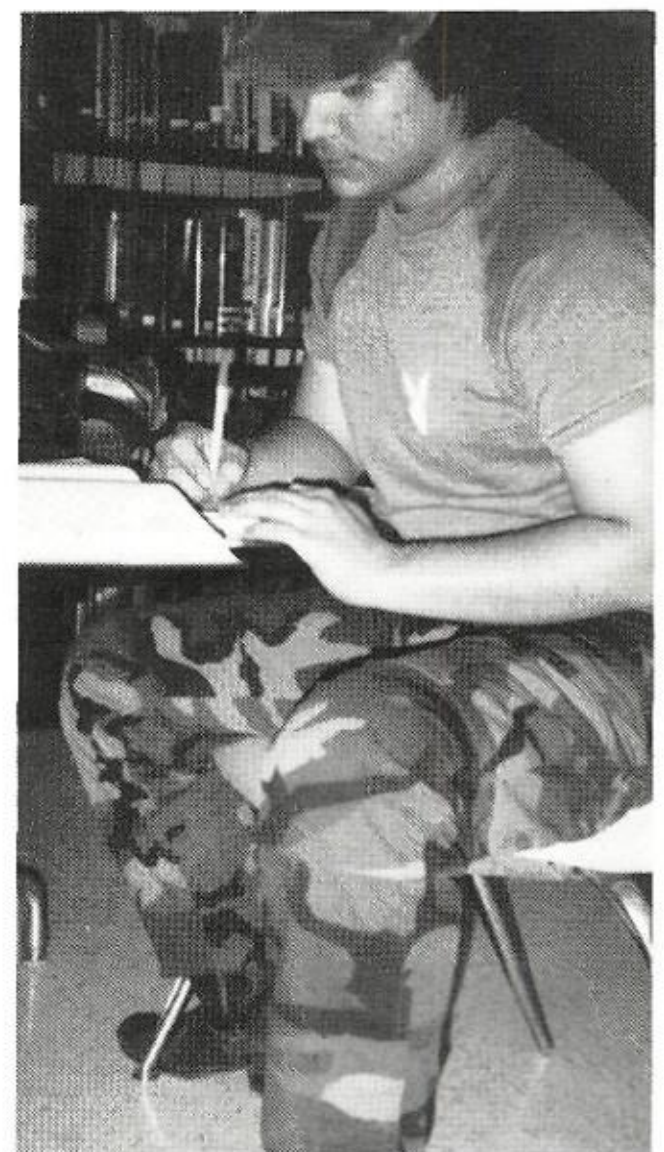

Rocket victories are a plus throughout the year. We have a Homecoming Queen, a Playboy, a sweetheart, we have academic winners, football victories, basketball victories, and we have baseball victories. So who gets the credit? John F. Kennedy High, that's who, because we are the supporters of our school, we are the ones that make our school, a great school.

Richard Flores offers A bite of his Snickers bar.

Doris Hernandez and George Aguillon express their love for one another.

Roy Morales studies in the library.

ENCHANTED BLOSSOMS"

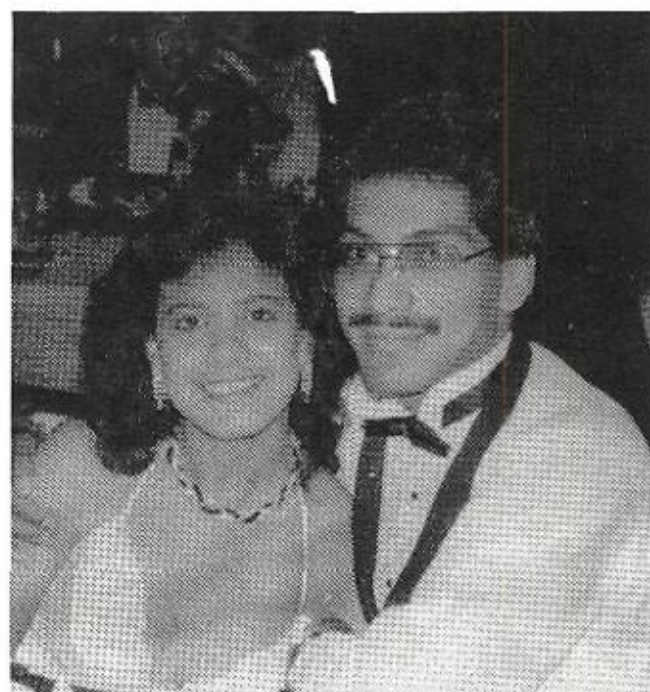

Jeanette Berlanga and her date eat seconds at the Japanese buffet.

David Terrones and Laura Reyes display their talent as they sing "The Greatest Love of All" for the Juniors of '84.

Luisa Garcia laughs as her date sings to the girl across from him while Liz Hildebrand and James Chavez watch the band "jam-out".

Liz Correa and Robert Bueno enjoy an enchanted evening.

Roy Morales amuses his date with his John Lennon glasses.

Rene Nava and Annabelle Montalvo hold on to an embraced moment.

"Look Peter, when I say go, you knock down Lucy Sanchez and Nelda Lozano, okay?" Says Fernando Villarreal.

ON THE RIGHT TRACK

Anna Cazarez says, "No, I'm protesting against studying."

Sara Galan is looking for her lost friends or are they looking for a lost friend?

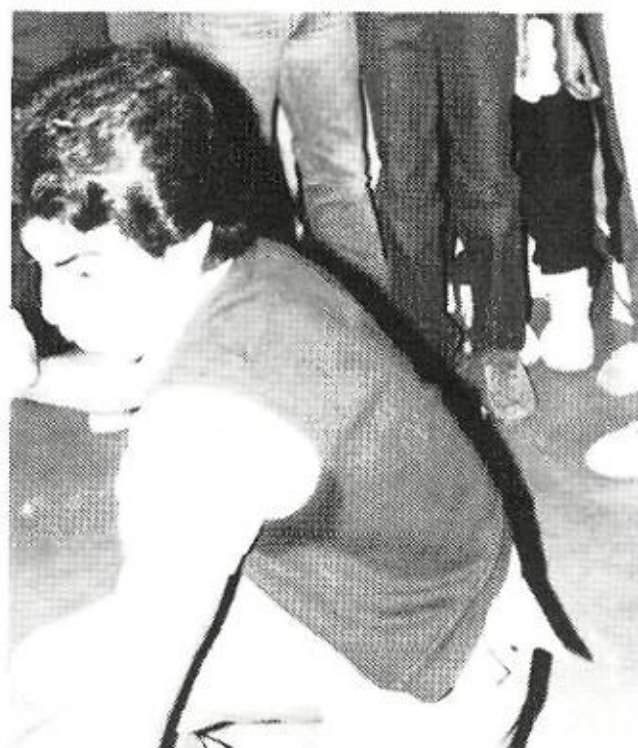

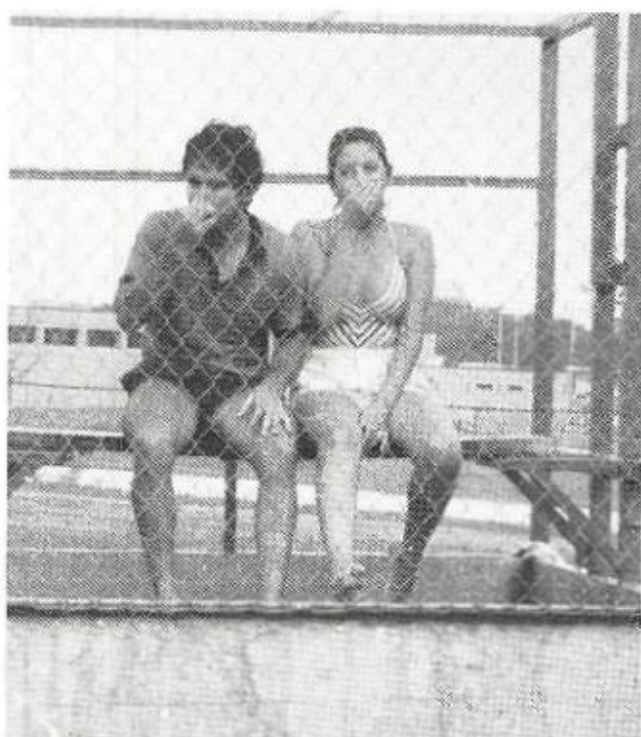

Robert Garcia just loves the attention of all his fans and admirers.

Frank Mendoza just can't seem to think while he is being watched.

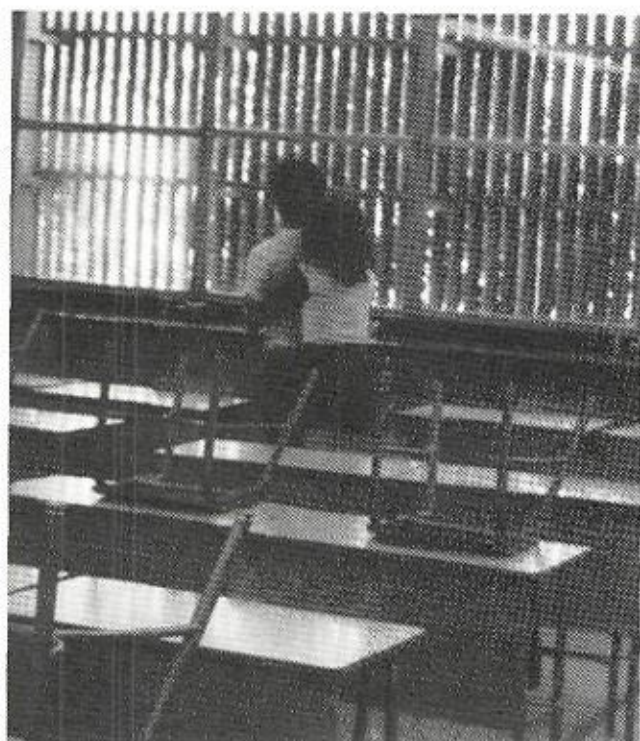

Patricia Ruiz says, "I think Jeannette Macias wants to start a fire."

STATE OF CONFUSION

A long way to go and such a short time to get there.

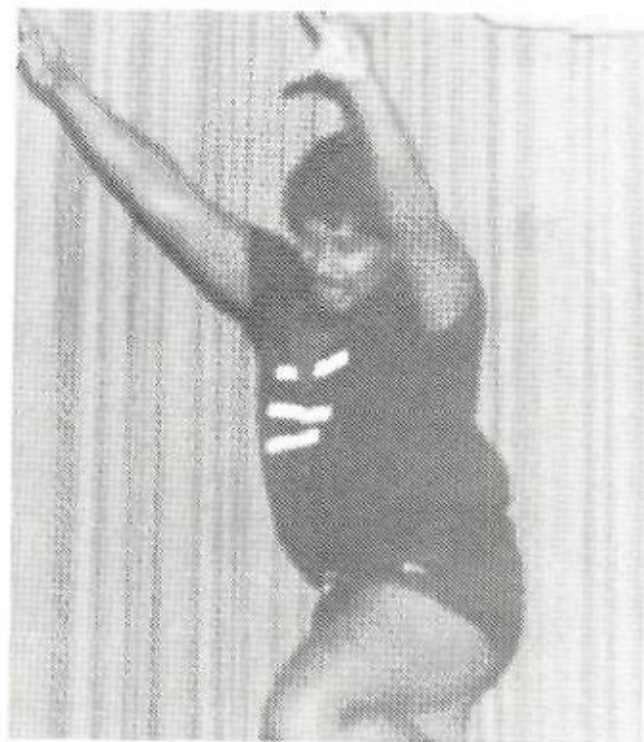

"I wonder if we'll get there alive," says Sandra Bustos to her friends.

"Look out Michael Jackson, because I'm next," exclaims John Lutzemberger.

"I'm gonna have to study real hard this time," says Rosa Lopez to Barbara Olmos.

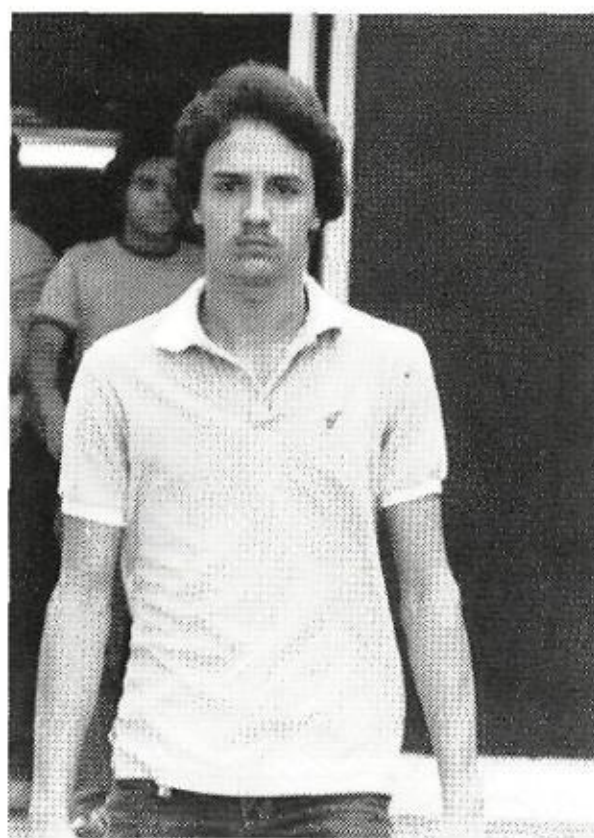

Martin Alvarez shows off his acrobatic moves.

THE FUTURE IS NOW

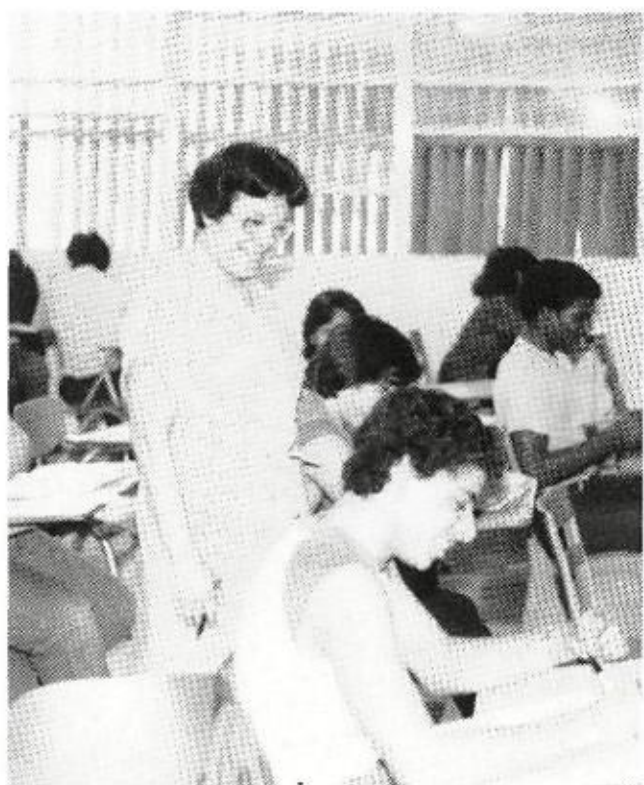

Hazel Thomas doesn't think that Petula Shivers has any taste for that guy.

Sometimes Daniel Leal just wants to make people think that he's tough.

"Do you actually think this is easy?" say Letty Rodriguez and Rachel Aguilar.

Ms. Sillen says "that's good, now all you have to do is learn how to spell your name."

Aisa Lomas can't decide whether to work or play.

David Bautista and Claudia Orta are the winners of the U.T.S.A. Spanish competition. CONGRATULATIONS!

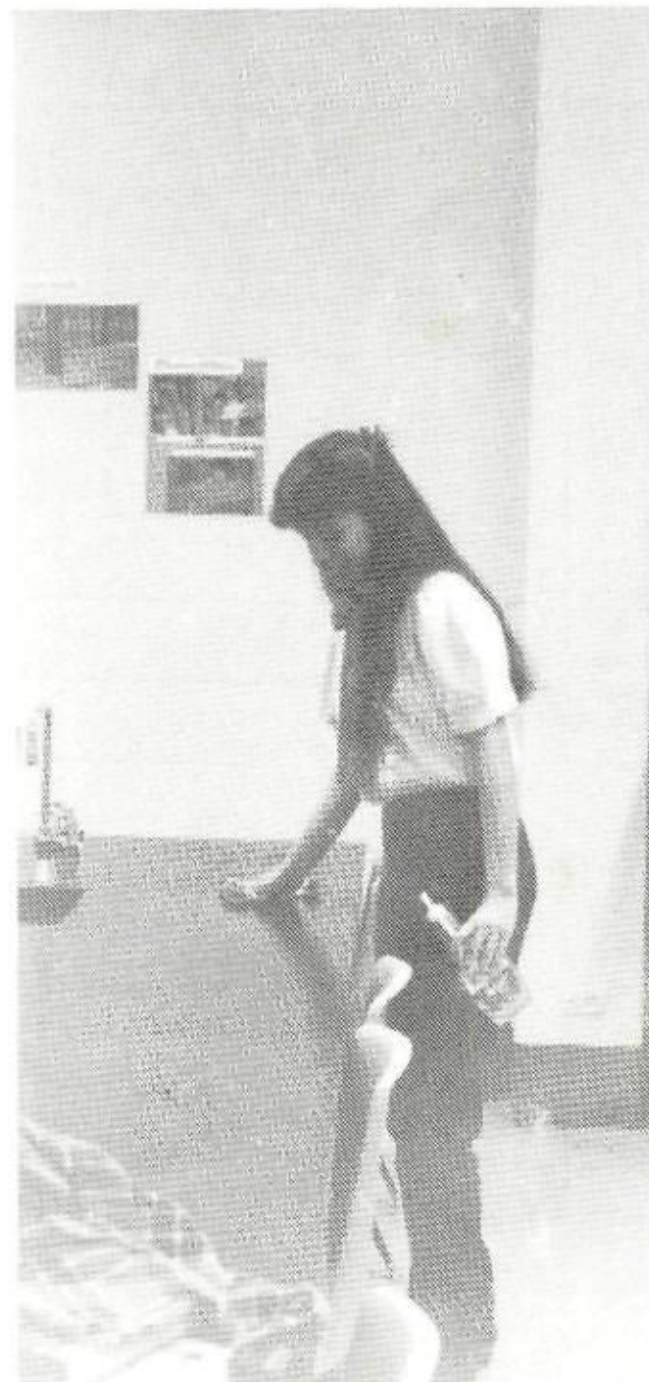

LIFE IN THE FAST LANE

Melissa Anguiano tries to capture the attention of the audience.

Pauline Sanchez prepares herself to become a housewife of the future.

Robert Reyes just can't seem to stop dancing with Laura Reyes.

Mary Ellen Menchaca speaks at the class meeting to promote spirit.

Jessica Martinez and Jeannette Barron do try to look like school girls.

EXPRESSIONS OF FAITH

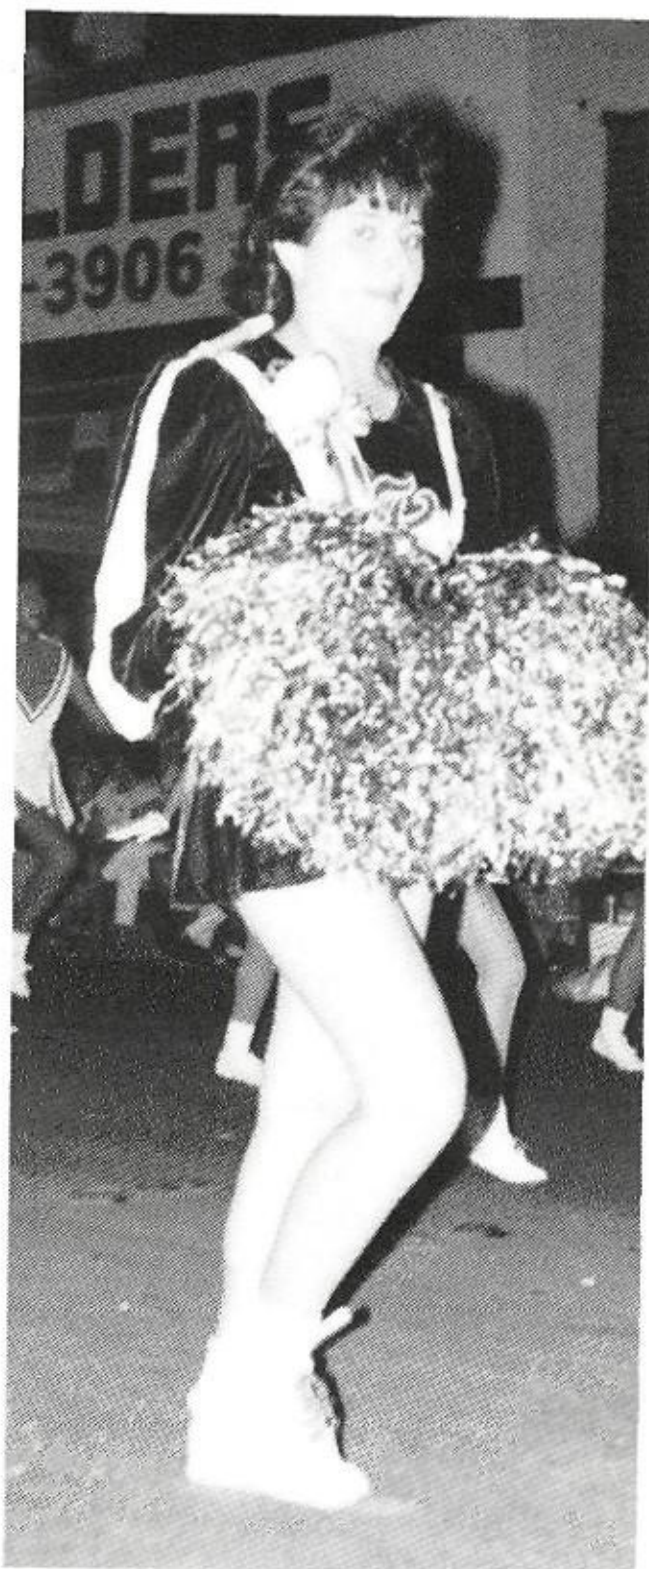

Isaac Campos tries to impress the audience by doing the moon walk.

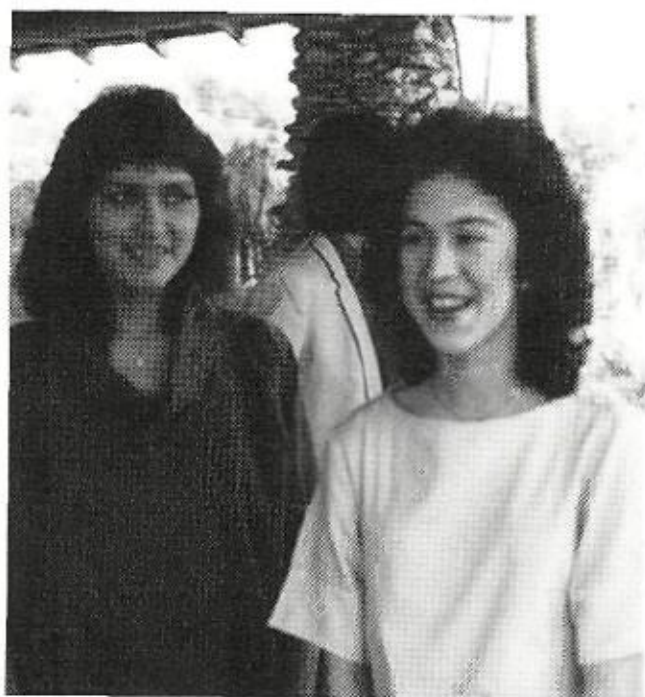

"Didn't I tell you to stand over there?" exclaims Mr. Guzman.

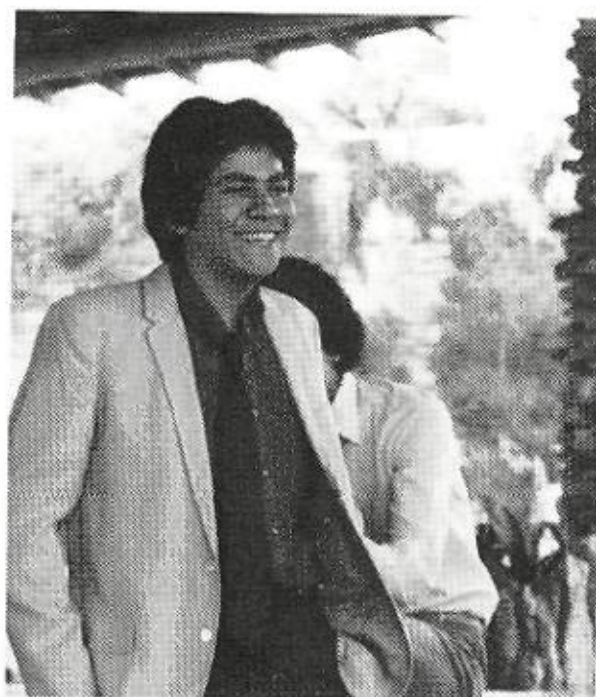

"Did I ever tell you about the time that I tried to become a model?" asks Letty Rodriguez.

Cindy Lopez feels exhausted after a long walk through the parade.

Carmen Benavidez and Laura Reyes never stop amusing themselves.

"You can call me Gildo but I'd rather you call me Mr. Gildo," says Gil Gonzalez.

James Arocha gets ready to leave class twenty minutes before the bell rings.

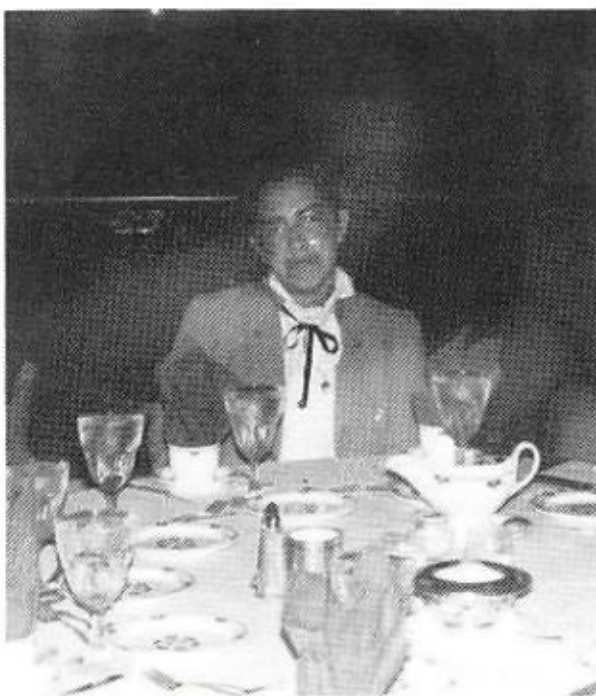

LIFE IN THE FAST LANE

Sergio Lujan seems like the perfect example of "The Thinker".

Elizabeth Garza just can't stand to walk home after school.

Brenda Montez cries for a sad ending.

Rene Arguello looks down to see if his shoelaces are tied.

Letty Rodriguez just can't seem to pick up Andy Medrano.

Olga Guzman laughs while she's playing "footsees" under the table.

Richard Olivares says "I told you never to take pictures of me when I'm busy."

THE LAST DINNER, UNITED

Melissa Galindo can't keep her eyes off that delicious steak.

Lydia Galdeano relaxes after a delicious dinner at the Hyatt Regency Hotel.

Joanne Rodriguez, Eloisa Silva, and Gina Garcia seem delighted with the arrangements made.

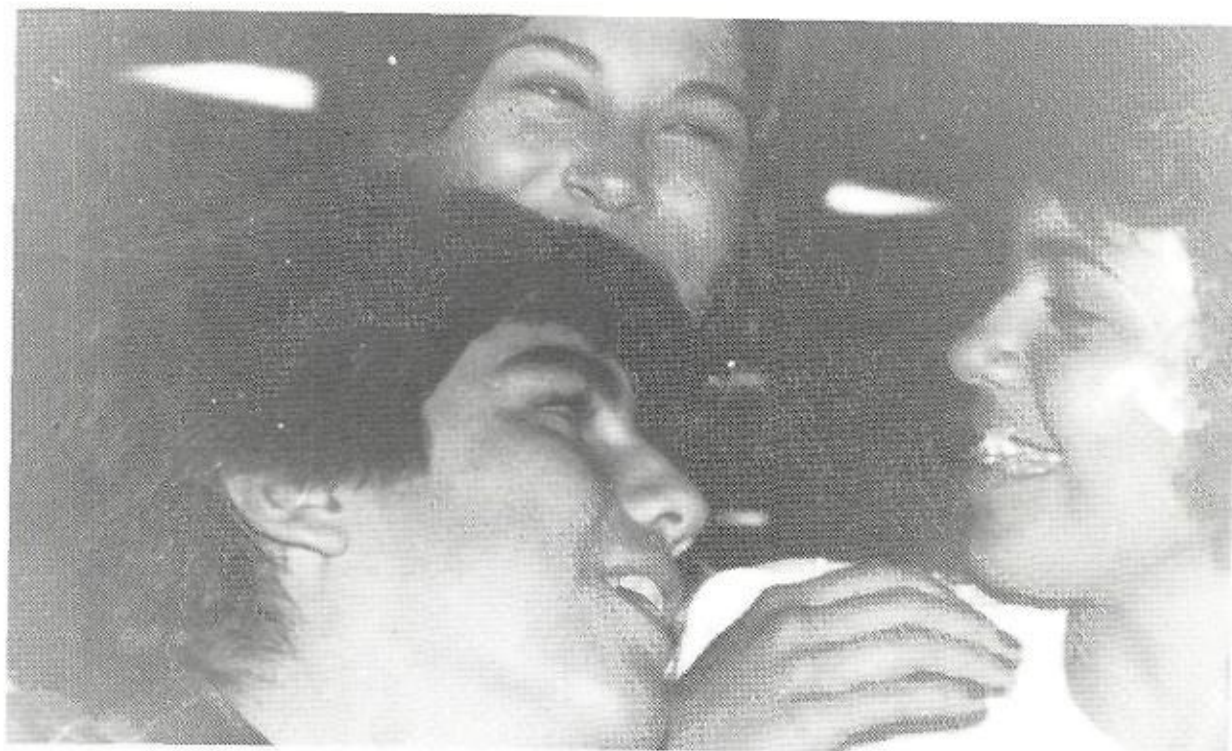

Mike Lopez and Roger Duque can't wait until the next banquet.

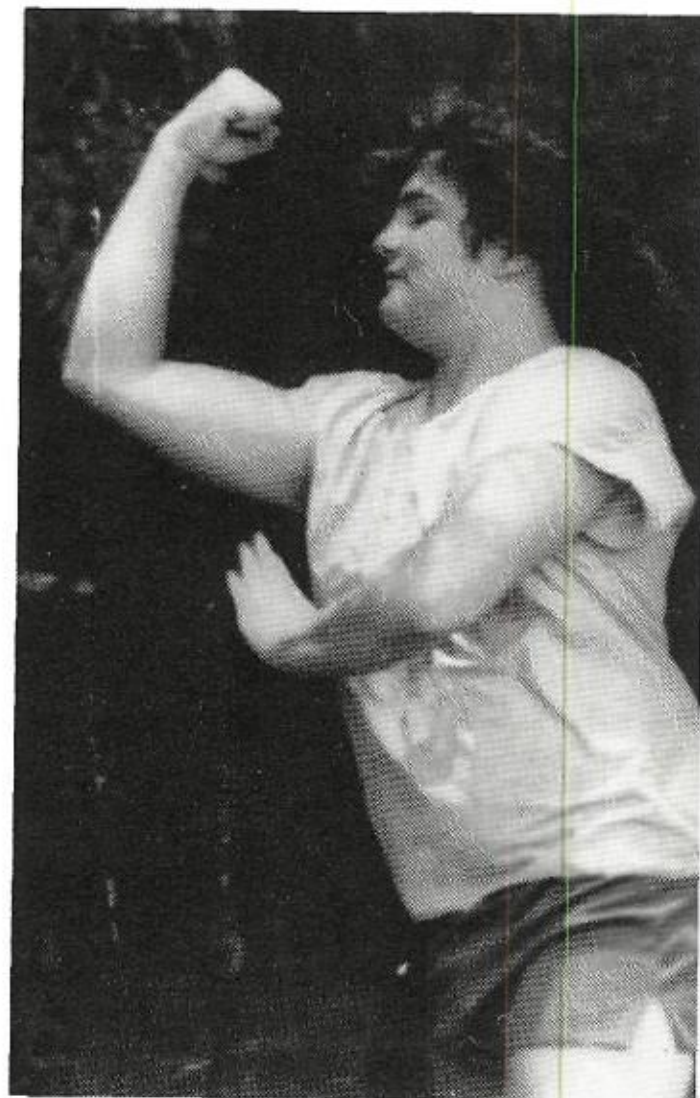

Dolores Sanchez, Liz Hildebrand, Doris Sanchez, Elsa Jasso, Rachel Trevino, and Diana Chavez feel like they've been waiting forever to be served.

IT HAS BEEN A SWELL YEAR

Paul Salinas begs Sandra Forey to go out on a date with him and Sandra Salinas laughs of jealousy.

Eloy Ramon says he will be the next Mr. Universe.

Ms. De La Cruz and Mrs. Keedy talk about their lesson plans for next year.

Seniors show off their Senior shirts with pride and dignity.

Sarah Galan laughs when she looks at herself in the mirror.

SAD ENDINGS AND NEW BEGINNINGS

The duck is a symbol of beginning, pride, honor, and accomplishment. It is a symbol of time.

It is now time for passing the torch down to new and better leaders.

Juniors have been handed down the symbol of honor. "... And so the torch has been passed."

Our lives are just beginning for as we walk out the doors, we will be the successors.

ADS

ADS; patron. commercial and personal help organize a yearbook. Trying to sell $365.00 dollars worth of advertisement is very difficult, especially when you are shy and don't like to solicit ads. Then there is the dilemma of not selling ads and failing journalism. What a drag! We want color pictures in our yearbook, more pages, more this, more that, but we can't have it. BLAH! Sell more ads, try selling $6,000.00 worth of advertisement. It's never been done. We need to sell more yearbooks and ads to survive. Support the yearbook - WE NEED YOU TO STAY ALIVE- buy a Yearbook or an AD.

Our primary interest to improve a yearbook is ... Money, MOney, MONEy, MONEy, MONEY!!!!
